

A Summer to Thrive...

Many of us have cherished memories from our childhood summer vacations. I remember as a child spending hours catching sunfish with my brother only to release them at the end of the afternoon...to begin the process all over again the next day! Summer in Canada is a wonderful time to enjoy new experiences, explore the richness of God's creation and build family memories. At the Chaplaincy summer is a critical ministry time. We work hard to provide literacy and math opportunities to keep children at grade level and nurture academic confidence. We offer sponsored overnight camp spaces so the children can grow through new experiences and enjoy nature. We run month long leadership camps targeting youth ages 12-15, who are at risk of gang and drug activity. We create meaningful evening recreational activities so that children have a safe and positive environment to play. We host community celebrations to build family memories. Our dream is that all the children and youth at the Chaplaincy have opportunities to THRIVE over the summer months.

At the Chaplaincy, we are convinced that breaking the barriers of poverty is best done by nurturing relationships, providing opportunities and being consistently present. In our Hollywood crazed culture, it is easy to be drawn to the sensational and to what becomes "news worthy" retweeted stories. Yet the face of poverty is often quiet and unseen. We see it daily at the Chaplaincy, in moments when residents feel safe enough to share their heartaches with us and their deep-felt concern for their children's future. These moments will never make the evening news...yet these are the moments where we can make a huge impact. Over the summer our focus is on the children and youth. As we listen to parents, we plan and dream together to create summer memories and opportunities for the children and youth to THRIVE. We are grateful for your partnership in this critical work. While your investment may not make the evening news, the impact is far reaching and creates positive summer memories forever etched in the hearts of a child!

March Break

March break was a community building highlight at the Chaplaincy! It was a great opportunity for everyone to enjoy fun activities and events together. Do you remember that one very cold day that we had during the week? If you wonder why, here is the answer: Princess Elsa, the Queen of Winter, came over for a short visit. She brought the cold weather, but at the same time she melted our hearts. This explains why there was so much love and bear hugs going on when we had our Teddy Bear picnic! Loving hearts are full of energy, therefore all the acquired enthusiasm was put to work at the Home Depot activity center where the children were busy creating tool boxes and picture frames. But that was not all! Children also enjoyed movies and popcorn, outdoor games, a nail painting party, and musical activities. In the busyness of the break, we did not forget about the parents and together with the families we gathered for fun and delicious community breakfasts!

What's new at the LCC?

Men's ministry begins...

Due to the generous funding received from the Ontario Trillium Foundation and the City of London, we are excited to welcome Eddie Ji to our staff team as our men's community builder. Eddie brings with him training in social work from King's University and a host of ministry experiences. He has jumped in with enthusiasm and is working hard at engaging and developing relationships with the men at Southdale and Limberlost.

Limberlost gets a facelift...

Last June we had a vision of updating the look at Limberlost. With prayer and the generosity of so many volunteers and funders, the dream came to life. We painted and cleaned, we hunted down second hand furniture and art and we updated the kitchen with new appliances, tables and chairs. Due to the generosity and help of the London Home Builders Association, the project was completed in March with the removal of a wall upstairs creating a spacious and functional activity room that will be the hub of our programming. Drop by for tea or breakfast and come see the warm and welcoming atmosphere at Limberlost! We are so grateful to all those that contributed to this project.
